

Editorial

Dear Readers,

Our five feature-length papers again cover a wide swath of subject matter including teaching AspectJ, software agents, MOF, class cohesion and activity models. In addition, we have a short book review and five columns.

Please refer to the summaries to get a detailed overview of the content of this issue.

Hope you find the papers and columns in this installment useful.

Richard Wiener